

Vacancy: Programme Manager-Safeguarding Leads Network

British Expertise International are looking for a Programme Manager for the Safeguarding Leads Network.

YOU can demonstrate your commitment to preventing sexual exploitation, abuse and harassment and to gender equality and human rights. You have experience working with the private sector, non-governmental or multi-lateral organisations in international development. You are a self-starter with excellent organisational and communication skills.

WE are the Safeguarding Leads Network – a group of private sector suppliers delivering UK aid programmes globally on behalf of the UK government. All members have signed up to the Private Sector Commitments made in 2018.

YOU WANT TO work at the cutting edge of safeguarding, driving up standards, identifying strategic opportunities and ensuring collaboration across the sector.

WE WANT a full-time programme manager for two years (renewable subject to review and funding) to provide secretariat and strategic support to the Safeguarding Leads Network, expanding the membership and supporting initiatives including communication and advocacy and building a solid, collaborative relationship across the international development /aid sector.
